Re: Resubmission of manuscript, Every day is earth day: Using a latent curriculum to develop an ethic of sustainability among college students.

Thank you for the opportunity to revise and resubmit this manuscript to the CSPA-NYS journal. We appreciate the thoughtful comments made by the reviewers and we have sought to incorporate the suggestions into the manuscript in the following ways:

- Added more specific examples of programs and activities that have been undertaken recently on college campuses throughout the country (Reviewer #1; pgs 15 & 16)
- Added summative statements at different points throughout the manuscript to strengthen the arguments made (Reviewer #2; Pgs 7, 14, 15 & 16).
- Corrected all typographic errors and grammar errors where detected.
- Revised the manuscript according to the comments made by the reviewers throughout the paper.
- Added references to strengthen the points made in the paper.

We believe these changes to the manuscript have improved the manuscript and we sincerely appreciate the reviewers comments that have enabled us to improve the manuscript. Please let us know if there is anything further that you require of us. We look forward to being published in the inaugural issue of the CSPA-NYS Journal!
